Dear Church Family and Friends,

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks". Heard that before?

John Gardner said, "The reason you can't teach an old dog new tricks is not that he is incapable of learning them. He is content that he has mastered the old tricks and thinks learning new ones is strictly for puppies. Besides he is busy paying off the mortgage on the doghouse."

All of us feel a comfort with "old tricks". Things we know and that have often worked before. They do not need the amount of thought and extra energy that is required to think of and do something new.

God works through the familiar. But He also works through the new and unfamiliar. In fact, notice how many times God's greatest works have been bold, new things: Parting the Red Sea, the First Coming of the Savior. His death for us on the Cross. His resurrection. His return. If I am not open to the new, I may miss some of God's greatest blessings!

Reflect on one area in your life, calling for openness to something new that God could do?

"No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for the patch will pull away from the garment, making the tear worse. Neither do people pour new wine into old wineskins. If they do, the skins will burst; the wine will run out and the wineskins will be ruined. No, they pour new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved." (Matthew 9:16-17)

Love, Pastor Mike

"Who Am I" is a popular song from the contemporary Christian band, Casting Crowns. Mark Hall, the band's lead singer, had the idea for the song while driving home with his family one night. He was having some personal worship time when he thought of the lyrics. Mark recalls that he thought "who am I to think I can just call up to God whenever I want, from the middle of nowhere, and expect Him to hear me.?" This thought was what sparked Mark's inspiration to write the song.

The song itself showcases vivid imagery of how we are but a flower quickly fading, here for a moment and then gone in the next. How we are like a single wave that is tossed upon the shore or vapor in the wind. The lyrics then go on to show that even though we may seem insignificant, God still hears us when we are calling. God catches us when we are falling, and tells us exactly who we are. We are His.

As I have been watching the series "The Chosen," I have drawn many connections between this song and Matthew. I feel that this is exactly how he may have felt being in the position that he was in. How many people openly despised him for being a tax collector, yet Jesus saw something different in Matthew.

Peace, Love, and Blessings, Joe
